CHINESE TESTIFYING

Depositions Being Taken at Memphis in Paducah Cases.

An Agent for the Chinese Government Has Charge of the Defense in All Cases.

TRIALS HERE IN A FEW DAYS

The trials of four Chinamen charged with unlawful residence in the United States come up before U. S. Commissioner Gardner in about a week, and the following from today's Memphis Commercial-Appeal will be of interest here in connection with the cases:

"The fact that there is a beneficial organization among Chinamen in this country to protect their fellow countrymen as much as is possible under the laws from the workings of the Chinese exclusion statutes was brought out yesterday in statements made to Assistant District Attorney Frank Smith by Sean Pong Pang, the interpreter for the society.

"The occasion for the statements made to the district attorney was the taking of depositions in the case of the United States circuit court for the Western district of Kentucky against Lin Sing, Charles Joe, alias Ju On, Ali Wing, alias Hong Ali Wing, and Ali Pang, alias Wing Ali Pang. All of these four are now under arrest in Kentucky on the charge of violating the Chinese exclusion statutes.

"Sean Song Pang is a well educated and remarkably intelligent Mongolian. According to the statements made by Pang to the official of the government he is not only the interpreter of the Chinese society, but is a special agent who takes charge of all cases in which Chinamen are under arrest for violating the labor exclusion statutes. His duties as agent take Pang all over the country to investigate the charges against Chinamen and to find out if the government indictments are well founded. He said that eight out of every ten Chinamen who were previously deported to China for violation of the exclusion law were not guilty of the offense charged. These men he contended were found guilty for the simple reason that, being unable to speak the language, they were unable to propose any defense or to assist their lawyers in any way in the conduct of their cases.

"Pang has obtained witnesses and proof in the four cases and all of these witnesses were examined yesterday preparatory to sending their depositions to Kentucky. The examination was conducted by Attorney Henry Taylor and Assistant District Attorney Frank Smith.

"Nearly all of the witnesses placed on the stand were Chinamen unable to speak the language and the scene was a most novel one in the federal court. The examination of the Chinamen was conducted in Chinese by Pang, who repeated their translated answers for the benefit of the court stenographers. Some little confusion was precipitated because of the doubt as to the proper oath to administer to the witness. The Chinese oath-giving ritual includes the killing of a chicken, but there being no fowl convenient to the federal court it was decided to administer the oath according to American customs.

"The father of Ali Wing was placed on the stand and testified that his son had been born in New Orleans about eighteen years ago. The father is at present living at Friar's Point, Miss., where he is engaged in the grocery business. He further testified that Ali had never been outside this country and was at present engaged in working for a steam laundry in Paducah, Ky. The aged celestial said that he desired his son to learn the steam laundry business because he thought it was more lucrative than the manner of cleaning clothes by hand.

Other witnesses were introduced to show that the other three Chinamen arrested had not violated the exclusion act, but that all of them were born and reared in this country.

FEW NEW CHANGES

Dispatcher Allan Jorgenson Acting Trainmaster Now.

Illinois Central Railroad Officials Changed About, But Not Permanently.

OTHER LATE RAILROAD NOTES

There will be several temporary change-ups in railroad circles when Mr. John T. Paul, superintendent of the Memphis division of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad, takes his vacation. The following is a schedule of the changes: W. F. Meath, superintendent of terminals, will act for Mr. Paul; Trainmaster E. T. Horn will act for Mr. Meath; O. B. Lord, yardmaster at Memphis, will act for Mr. Horn. Mr. Paul took the position of superintendent when the business of the road was so heavy that it looked impossible to relieve the blockades. He worked so hard that he broke down and the vacation is absolutely necessary to the betterment of his health.

The wrecking outfit of the Illinois Central returned here last night after having been out for more than a week. The wreck at Dawson was the last worked and all cars and engines were brought in this morning. Both engines are entirely stripped of their trimmings and are nearly total wrecks. The tanks are wrecks and the engines will cost the road a great deal in repairs.

Effective today, C. L. Ewing becomes assistant superintendent on the St. Louis division of the Illinois Central, a position recently created. Mr. Ewing's office will be at Carbondale. W. H. Shaw, for some time foreman of the Terminal shops, is succeeded by Mr. Egan of Chicago.

Mr. J. B. Alvey of Louisville is in the city acting temporarily as chief dispatcher while Chief Dispatcher Allan J. Jorgenson is acting trainmaster in the place of Trainmaster Sheridan, who is in Indiana attending the bedside of his father, who is seriously ill.

Mr. J. M. Danbenspecht, who resigned yesterday as day ticket agent at the Illinois Central ticket office here, is being checked out today and will leave as soon as possible for Indianapolis, where he will go to work for an Indiana road.

defense in the conduct of the government cases against the Chinamen."

NO COW CATCHERS YET.

Marshal James Crow has not yet appointed any cow catchers to take up roving cattle inside the city limits. The complaints are numerous and he expects it will become necessary soon, but will wait a few days before appointing officers to impound cows.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Foreman of Work on Cairo Extension Killed Last Night.

J. D. Hollis Fell Beneath the Wheels and Was Mangled Before Found.

INQUEST IS TO BE HELD

Assistant Foreman J. D. Hollis, of the track crew on the Cairo extension of the Illinois Central, was killed last night about 7 o'clock near Maxon's Mills by falling or being thrown from the water car in front of a work train engine coming towards the city.

It appears that Mr. Hollis with Engineer Sheppard, Conductor Flynn, and several others were on their way to the city on the work train, as usual after completing their work for the day. The work train consisted of an engine pushing a water car, with caboose in the rear. Mr. Hollis was on the water car in front, evidently, but no one had paid any attention to him until the water car was derailed and the engineer, perceiving that something had happened, stopped the train.

It was found that Mr. Hollis had been run over by the water car, engine and some of the wheels of the caboose. His right thigh was mangled and his head crushed, but he was still alive. He was placed aboard the train, and no doctor being available at Maxon's Mills, the hospital authorities were here notified by telephone, and the engineer was given instructions to come to the city with all possible speed, reaching the 11th and Broadway crossing 15 minutes after leaving Maxon's Mills. The injured man was placed in the ambulance, but a short time after reaching the I. C. hospital he died.

The deceased was foreman of the track crew in the local yards, but had been transferred to the Cairo extension in order to push the work. He was a well known and well liked young man who resided on Monroe street between Second and Third. He was thirty-three years old, and leaves a wife and three children.

The accident was apparently one of those that occasionally result from carelessness. The men had been repeatedly warned against riding on the front end of the work trains by Roadmaster Russell and others.

It is not known whether Mr. Hollis fell off and his body derailed the water car, or whether the car was derailed, throwing Mr. Hollis off and under the wheels.

Coroner Peal today summoned a jury and will hold an inquest as soon as the witnesses can be secured. They all returned to work on the Cairo division this morning and will not return to Paducah until tonight.

Mrs. James Lang and daughter went to DeSoto, Mo., today at noon to visit her brother, Mr. James McKee.

A RELIC OF FEUDISM

A Life Term Prisoner Visits Paducah Today.

He Gets a Pension and Spends It All for Grub—Now He Wants an Increase.

WAS IN HATFIELD-MCCOY FEUD

The unusual spectacle of a real convict in regulation prison garb is one not often witnessed in Paducah, but it was accorded pedestrians on Broadway this morning. Not more peculiar to the people, however, was this sight than were the many sights witnessed by the convict himself, it being his first visit to a city of any size for fifteen years.

The prisoner was Alex Messer, known at Edenville as "Daddy" Messer, and he had come to the city with Mr. Mose R. Glenn, cell keeper at the Edenville penitentiary, to appear before the board of pension examiners to secure an increase in his pension. "Daddy" gets $10 per month and wants an increase to $30. He stated to a reporter this morning that he intended to get it or "bust his gallowes tryin'." He has no family and spends the money for food, feasting himself on the best procurable with the money he is limited to. "Eating," he stated, "is about the only enjoyment I get, and I have all to eat that I can get."

Messer was sent up for life about fifteen years ago for the murder of Randolph McCoy in Pike county, Kentucky, his home. It is alleged that Messer and several companions who figured in the famous Hatfield-McCoy feud tied the younger McCoy, aged 18, to a tree and left him and that Messer later returned and with a shotgun shot him, saying that "dead men tell no tales." In speaking of the matter this morning Messer stated that it was false, that "they were all plague gone lies and he knew it," for he was "standing within ten feet of the boy" when shot. There were three brothers shot in this feud, Randolph, Tobie and one other.

While in the city Daddy incidentally made a few purchases at the Weille store. He bought a hat and several other articles of wearing apparel. A companion in the penitentiary desired an old fashioned plug hat, but this could not be procured. Strange as it might seem, they all want to dress and take great pride in donning some out-of-date hat or coat and parading about the grounds with it on.

Daddy Messer is 66 years of age and does but little work about the prison. He is the toilet superintendent, his duties being to supervise the toilet rooms and look after the sanitation of the prison in general. He does not appear to consider his lot so hard as it might seem and seemed to enjoy his return to civilization very much today. This is the first time he has had so much freedom in many years.

Messer is a typical mountain character, with the sharp, penetrating, shifty eyes of the race inhabiting that region. A gentleman who saw him here this morning remarked that he looked as if he was constantly gazing down a gun barrel. A sketch of him appeared in Munsey's Magazine a short while ago.

PENSION BOARD

TWO EXAMINATIONS MADE HERE TODAY.

The board of pension examiners met this morning at 10 o'clock to examine for pensions. The board is composed of Drs. H. H. Duley and H. F. Williams of the city and Dr. R. H. Starks of Benton. Two applicants are here to be examined, one being Alex Messer, and the other William Farmer of Smithland.

Others who later came in for examination were John Brown, Smithland, and Patrick Henry. The result of the examination will be given later.

OLD RELIABLE BACK

Judge Sanders Takes Charge of Police Court Again.

The Case Against Negro Girl Being Throwing into Train Consumes Much Time.

Police Judge D. L. Sanders was back again today, having returned last evening from a pleasant and beneficial stay at Dawson, looking and feeling much better. He found awaiting him a large docket when he came for order in police court today.

The cases that occupied most of the court's attention were those against Hunter Stone, a negro girl charged to be 12 years old, for throwing a stone through a work train of the Illinois Central on the Cairo division, against Bud Hill, for taking her Engineer Sheppard when he had under arrest to bring her to the city and turn her over to the authorities.

The evidence is somewhat conflicting, but the girl does not deny throwing the rock, claiming she was throwing at the train. The matter went through the case window came near striking the engineer. Judge Sanders left the case open. It is the only one of its kind on record here.

Jerry Davis was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct.

George H. Andrecht, violating the law; Gerrie Perry and Walter Perry, alias John Perry, colored, for grand larceny; William Mechanicsburg man charged with housebreaking; Marion Lucas, with obtaining money by false pretenses by selling a pair of false glasses; Ernest Elmsendorf and Bulger, grand larceny, all cases until tomorrow. Annie and Cannon, until July 6; Tom Gray and Tom Burnett, charged with false swearing, Friday. They testified in the violation of the Sabbath case today, and more evidence was given, resulting in the withdrawal of his plea of not guilty and being fined $15 and costs on a plea of guilt. The three witnesses were then arrested for false swearing. John Scott, colored, who was Knight, waived examination and was held in the sum of $200.

Andrew Boyd, charged with cutting a barber, was released on $100 recognizance, the prosecuting witness never having been found.

GRADUALLY RETURNING.

MR. WALTER LEDFORD NOW REMEMBERS SOME THINGS.

Mr. Walter Leford is slowly improving from the injuries he received by falling from a street car at Thirteenth and Broadway last Friday night, but he has not yet fully recovered his memory, although he seems to be rational at times.

Mr. Leford had been on a boat at the wharf a short time before boarding the car, and yesterday when he first became rational could not remember anything about it. Today he has sufficiently recovered to remember about being on the boat, but still declares he was not on any car. It is believed that in a day or two he will be all right again.

NOT YET BEGUN.

GROUND WILL PROBABLY NOT BE BROKEN FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

Owing to the necessary preliminary work Contractor Bailey of Henderson has not yet begun work on the government building addition. He is now preparing to set the material on the grounds, and expects to break ground next week, but not sooner.

Mr. Miller Bradshaw has returned from Memphis, where he attended the marriage of his sister, Miss Maude Bradshaw, to Mr. Frank Murray.

Clarksville, Tenn., July 1—Clarksville won yesterday, although her errors were costly. Score: Clarksville—6-11-12; Betts and Holmes. Hopkinsville—4-11-6; Edwards and Street.

THERE WAS PLENTY DOING.

Henderson's sluggers set off a display of fireworks yesterday afternoon at the Wallace park grounds that surpassed anything in the pyrotechnic line ever witnessed on the diamond here. Up to the fifth or sixth inning it was a pretty fair game, but in the seventh the Hens took off their coats, spat on their hands, figuratively speaking, and didn't stop until they had made ten runs. Paducah could make but seven in all and was defeated by a score of 16 to 7. It is the opinion of the fans Henderson could have made it about 25 in another inning or two.

Henry Dicke, a local amateur, pitched the first four innings and made a good showing, only three hits being made off him. Girard was then placed at the slab and the sluggers did the rest. Scores, hits and errors came so thick and fast it was hard work to keep count of them. Both sides at times played rotten ball, 23 runs, 25 hits and 18 errors being made during the nine innings. Fans were disgusted and many left saying they would go out no more until they were insured a better article of ball. They like to see a fast, close game, even if the locals lose.

The game by innings:

FIRST INNING.

Henderson—Copeland struck out. Warner struck out. King grounded out from short to first.

Paducah—Clifford grounded to second, who let it go between his hands. Right field also erred in trying to stop the hit and Clifford made three bags. Gage struck out and Murray got his base on balls. Perry went to the bat and Murray was thrown out at second by pitcher. Clifford scored on a wild pitch. Perry grounded out to second to first. One score.

SECOND INNING.

Henderson—Richards got his base on balls and Haas hit a slow one to pitcher, who threw Richards out at second. Percival hit a hot liner to second, who muffed and threw Haas out at second on the forced run. McNeill was struck by the ball and had to be taken out of the game. Boland struck out, retiring side. No runs.

Paducah—LeCompte flew out to left. Duffot grounded out from second to first. Edmunds hit to left field and on error of third baseman and left fielder made three bases. Connors hit to center field for two bags. Dicke struck out. One run.

NO USE FOR IT ANY MORE.

HOW good food put a good minister on his feet again is an interesting story. He says: "A little more than a year ago I commenced the use of Grape-Nuts food. At that time I had been suffering from dyspepsia for about five years. I had tried all the remedies my friends told me about but no permanent relief.

"My Sabbath duties at that time prostrated me, and the following day I no use to myself or to any one else.

"After beginning the food a change began to take place and gradually the dyspepsia and turbance left me. Now I have gained twenty pounds and am free from stomach troubles that I suffered long from.

"I can do twice the amount of work with ease, am well all the time, and naturally sing the praises of the delicious food that has put me right. I am perfectly willing to have my name appear as endorsing your excellent food, for I know from personal experience of its value." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

An amateur baseball game was played yesterday afternoon between the Challenge league and the Shamrocks, on West Monroe street yesterday afternoon, resulting in a score of 31 to 11 in favor of the Challenge league.

The Challenge league lineup was: Earl Williams, short stop; Enlin Arnold, pitcher; Salem Cope, catcher; George Dicken, center field; Harry Walbert, second base; Will Henneberger, third base; Frank Ritter, left field; Carl Leigh, center field; Tom Reid, first base.

Another game is being played this afternoon, with the following battery: Williams, Arnold and Cope for the Challenge league, and Walbert and Kidd for the Shamrocks. The two clubs will also play tomorrow afternoon.

DOPE.

Freeman is ill but will be able to pitch again tomorrow.

Some of Paducah's best players make the worst errors at the most critical periods.

Henry Dicke may be pitching in a league soon. He did good work yesterday during the time he twirled 'em.

Catcher Tom Clifford this morning received a message from St. Louis saying that his infant son was ill and in a serious condition.

Mose Akers, the Louisville outfielder, is here and will play in this afternoon's game. He is a fast man and showed up well in practice this morning.

Boland will pitch this afternoon for Henderson and Warner will catch. Paducah's battery will probably be Hedges and Perry, Hedges having stated that he would probably go in to help the boys out.

The public is getting a little weary of the old story of new players who "are coming." They are getting so they want to be sighted. It's getting too late in the season to experiment. Do something.

It is thought by many that Dicke would have won out yesterday had he been permitted to remain in the box. He throws a swift ball and pitches good curves and can hold out many innings over the usual number.

President Thompson, of the K. I. T. league, last evening laid off Lewis, the umpire who has been giving such dissatisfaction there, and appointed one of Cairo, in his place. Powell, the umpire who

RELIGIOUS DEBATE IN GRAVES TO BE HEARD BY MANY.

Mayfield, July 1—The religious debate at Sedalia, seven miles south of here, began yesterday between J. N. Hall, editor of the Baptist Flag, and R. H. Pigue, editor of the Methodist. "Wild Bill" Evans, a Methodist evangelist, has been in this section since Friday circulating printed matter severely criticising Hall, which has stirred up much feeling among the people. Trouble of some nature is feared as the result of the high state of feeling that now exists. Thousands are expected to be in attendance.

THE BOSS WORM MEDICINE.

H. P. Kumpke, druggist, Leighton, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child which was sick and threw up all food; could retain nothing on its stomach. He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

FIRST WOMAN STENO-

RAPHER DEAD.

New York, July 1—In the death of Eliza Boardman Burnz her sex loses one of its staunchest friends and a strong personality passes away. She was known as "the grand old woman of stenography," having been the first girl stenographer of years ago. She was 80 years old when she died. She learned shorthand writing of the originator of the present system, old Isaac Pittman, in England when she was 15 years old. Two years later she came to America and was in 1847 the only woman stenographer in America.

THE PERFECT LIVER MEDICINE.

Mrs. M. A. Jolley, Noble, O. T., writes: "I have used Herbine for a number of years and can cheerfully recommend it is the most perfect liver medicine and the greatest blood purifier. It is a medicine of positive merit and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find a lodgment in the system while the liver is in perfect order, for one of its functions is to prevent the absorption of fever-producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MEETING

Denver, Colo., July 1—Arrangements are complete for the meeting in this city of the twenty-first international biennial convention of the Society of Christian Endeavor. The sessions will be held in Tent Endeavor, which will be pitched in a convenient place near City park, and will have a seating capacity of 10,000. Overflow meetings will be held in several of the larger churches.

One of the features of entertainment for the delegates and visitors will be a grand concert in the Tent Endeavor the night preceding the opening of the convention.

REPULSIVE FEATURES.

Blackheads, pimples, greasy faces and muddy complexions, which are so common among women, especially girls at a certain age, destroying beauty, disfiguring and making repulsive features which would otherwise appear attractive and refined, indicate that the liver is out of order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

EASTERN CAPITALISTS INSPECT

Sturgis, Ky., July 1—Thomas A. Nevins and other capitalists from the East have arrived here in a private car to inspect the United States Coal, Coke and Gas Co.'s property, of which Mr. Nevins is the principal stockholder.

Rev. W. L. Riley, LL.D., Omaha, N. Y., writes: "After fifteen days of excruciating pain from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, the first application giving me relief, and the second entire relief. I can give it unqualified recommendation. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

VEITS IN SESSION.

ACTIVE WORK PREPARING FOR ENCAMPMENT BEGINS MONDAY.

A meeting of Confederate Veterans was held last night at the city hall for the purpose of talking over the reunion next October in Paducah of the Second brigade, Confederate Veterans of Kentucky.

The members of the camp discussed various matters for about two hours and it was decided to begin the active work of preparing for the reunion next Monday, when the meetings of various committees will begin.

The committee to locate a site for the camp, is composed of Captain Herndon, chairman, and Messrs. B. H. Scott, Al Townsend, Stewart Dick and Dr. J. G. Brooks, and it meets next Tuesday evening at Major Moss' office on legal row.

The camp admitted four new members last night, as follows:

O. L. Thompson, of company C, First Kentucky regiment; James B. McMann, of company G, Third Kentucky; W. S. Moore, of company C, Eighth Kentucky, and H. A. Middleton, of company C, Eighth Kentucky.

BURIAL AT FULTON.

WELL KNOWN WOMAN EXPIRES IN TEXAS.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. J. H. Hall, at Waco, Tex., and the remains are now en route to Fulton, her former home, where they will be buried.

The deceased died Wednesday and was about 43 years of age. She leaves a husband who will accompany the remains to Fulton. Among the relatives she leaves at Fulton are Mrs. Thomas N. Fields, Mrs. Lehman Browder and Mrs. Baril, the latter of Bardwell, all sisters.

Bears in a Lawsuit.

At Bernese, Switzerland, are kept bears that belong to the town, and are treated as citizens. Their ancestors were left a legacy by an admirer, and as the sum came to several millions of francs, their keepers used to enjoy themselves very much, the bears being looked upon as minors. But after the French revolution Gen. Brune, who had invaded Switzerland, walked off with the bears' property and left them penniless. Another admirer has now left them a legacy, but the bears are still unfortunate, for the parish of Porrentruy lays claim to the money and intends to bring the matter before the law courts.

Could Not Lie On Left Side.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

Mrs. H. R. Jobe, formerly of Birmingham, Ala., writes from Eldredge, the same state, as follows:

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure. I only wish that I could tell every sufferer how much good they have done me. Last winter I had a severe attack of La Grippe, which left my heart in a very bad condition. I could not lie down for the smothering spells that would almost overcome me and the feeling of oppression around my heart. I had not been so that I could lie on my left side for a long time. I got your Heart Cure and took three bottles. I have no trouble now with my heart and can lie on my left side as well as my right. Formerly I had suffered for years with nervous prostration. I had tried so many remedies that I had got clear out of heart of getting anything that would help me. The nerves of my heart were so affected that sometimes it would lose beats so it would seem to stop altogether. It was on the advice of a lady friend that I tried your Restorative Nervine. I felt better after the first few doses and two bottles of Nervine and one of Heart Cure made me feel like a new person. My heart is all right and my nervousness is all gone. I never fail to recommend it to others afflicted as I was."

OUTING SPOTS IN THE NORTHWEST

There are many places in the country of the Northern Pacific, some inexpensive, others better and more expensive, where one can spend the summer days pleasantly and healthfully. Among these are Walker in the Leech lake country, and Detroit and Battle Lake in the Lake Park region in Minnesota; Eaton's ranch, near Medora, N. D.; Hunter's Hot Springs in the Yellowstone valley, and Missoula and the Bitter-root valley in Montana; Lakes Pend d'Oreille and Cour d'Alene, Idaho; North Yakima in Eastern Washington, and Green River Hot Springs in the Cascades; Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Victoria on Puget Sound, and many places along the Columbia river and on the Pacific Ocean from Portland as a center.

Those east of the Mississippi who wish a decided change should go to the Rockies or the Puget Sound and Columbia river and sea coast country. We can only hint at these things here, but write us giving particulars as near as you can, and we will try to give you the needed information to enable you to find what you want. And don't forget that Yellowstone Park is the chief of all tourist shrines.

Send to Chas. S. Fee, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn., six cents for "Wonderland 1902." You need it in your business.

It took less than three months and only ten bottles to effect a permanent cure, but they were worth more than as many hundred dollars to me. I am fully restored to health, know neither ache nor pain and enjoy life."—Mrs. M. J. Danley.

This experience has been repeated many times. We hear of such cases nearly every day.

GRAUSTARK

... By ...
GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON
 Copyright, 1901, by Herbert S. Stone

... his highness, tomorrow will see the turning point in the history of two, possibly three, nations—Graustark, Axphain and Dawsbergen. I have included my own land because its ruler is most vitally interested. He would serve and save Graustark, as you know, and he would satisfy Axphain. It is in my power to give you aid at this last, trying hour, and I implore you to listen to my words of sincerest friendship—yes, adoration. Tomorrow you are to pay to Prince Boleroz over 25,000,000 gavyos or relinquish the entire north half of your domain. I understand the lamentable situation. You can raise no more than 15,000,000, and you are helpless. He will grant no extension of time. You know what I have proffered before. I come today to repeat my friendly offer and to give unquestioned bond as to my ability to

"Go! I will not hear you!" carry it out. If you agree to accept the loan I extend—10,000,000 gavyos for fifteen years at the usual rate of interest—you can on tomorrow morning place in the hand of Axphain when he makes his formal demand the full amount of your indebtedness in gold. Ricardo, open the chest!"

An attendant threw open the lid of the chest. It was filled with gold coins.

"This box contains 100,000 gavyos. There are in your halls nine boxes holding nine times as much as you see here, and there are nine times as much all told on the way. This is an evidence of my good faith. Here is the gold. Pay Boleroz and owe Gabriel the greatest happiness that could come to him."

There was a dead silence after this theatrical action.

"The interest on this loan is not all you ask, I understand," said Halfont slowly, his black eyes glittering. "You ask something that Graustark cannot and will not barter—the hand of its sovereign. If you are willing to make this loan, naming a fair rate of interest, withdrawing your proposal of marriage, we can come to an agreement."

Gabriel's eyes dimmed with disappointment, his breast heaved and his fingers twitched.

"I have the happiness of your sovereign at heart as much as my own," he said. "She shall never want for devotion; she shall never know a pain."

"You are determined, then, to adhere to your original proposition?" demanded the count.

"She would have married Lorenz to save her land, to protect her people. Am I not as good as Lorenz? Why not give"—began Gabriel viciously, but Yeltie arose and, with gleaming eyes and flushing cheeks, interrupted him.

"Go! I will not hear you—not one word!"

He passed from the room without another word. Her count saw her standing straight and immovable, her white face transfigured.

CHAPTER XXIII.

THE VISITOR AT MIDNIGHT.

BELOW the castle and its distressed occupants, in a dark, damp little room, Grenfall Lorry lived a year in a day. On the night of the 18th, or, rather, near the break of dawn on the 19th, Captain Quinnox guided him from the dangerous streets of Edelweiss to the secret passage, and he was safe for the time being. The entrance to the passage was through a skillfully hidden opening in the wall that inclosed the park. A stone doorway so cleverly constructed that it defied detection led to a set of steps, which in turn took one to a long, narrow passage. This ended in a stairway fully a quarter of a mile from its beginning. Ascending this stairway one came to a secret panel through which, by pressing a spring, the interior of the castle was reached. The location of the panel was in one of the recesses in the wall of the chapel, near the altar. It was in this chapel that Yeltie exchanged her male attire for a loose gown weeks before, and the servant who saw her come from the door at an unearthly hour in the night had gone there to seek succor from the troubles which oppressed her.

Lorry was impatient to rush forth from his place of hiding and to end all suspense, but Quinnox demurred. He begged the eager American to remain in the passage until the night of the 19th, when, all things going well, he might be so fortunate as to reach the princess without being seen. It was the secret hope of the guilty captain that his charge could be induced by the princess to return to the monastery to avoid complications. He promised to inform her highness of his presence in the underground room and to arrange for a meeting. The miserable fellow could not find courage to confess his disobedience to his trusting mistress. Many times during the day she had seen him hovering near, approaching and then retreating, and had wondered not a little at his peculiar manner.

And so it was that Lorry chafed and writhed through a long day of suspense and agony. Quinnox had brought to the little room some candles, food and bedding, but he utilized only the former. The hours went by and no summons called him to her side. What was to become of him? What was to be the end of this drama? What would the night, the morrow, bring about?

It was 9 o'clock in the evening when Quinnox returned to the little room. The waiting one had looked at his watch a hundred times, had run insanely up and down the passage in quest of the secret exit, had shouted aloud in the frenzy of desperation.

"Have you seen her?" he cried, grasping the newcomer's hand.

"I have; but, before God, I could not tell her what I had done! Your visit will be a surprise, I fear a shock."

"Then how am I to see her? Fool! Am I to wait here forever?"

"Have patience! I will take you to her tonight—aye, within an hour. Tomorrow morning she signs away the northern provinces, and her instructions are that she is not to be disturbed tonight. Not even will she see the Countess Dagmar after 9 o'clock. It breaks my heart to see the sorrow that abounds in the castle tonight. Her highness insists on being alone, and Bassot, the new guard, has orders to admit no one to her apartments." He is ill, and I have promised that a substitute shall relieve him at 11 o'clock. You are to be the substitute. Here is a part of an old uniform of mine, and here is a coat that belonged to Danno, who was about your size. Please exchange the clothes you now have on for these. I apprehend no trouble in reaching her door, for the household is in gloom and the halls seem barren of life."

He threw the bundle on a chair, and Lorry at once proceeded to don the contents. In a very short time he wore instead of the colporteur's garments a neat fitting uniform of the royal guard. He was trembling violently, chilled to the bone with nervousness, as they began the ascent of the stairs leading to the chapel. The crisis in his life, he felt, was near at hand.

Under the stealthy hand of Quinnox the panel opened, and they listened intently for some moments. There was no one in the dimly lighted chapel, so they made their way to the door at the opposite end. Before unlocking the door the captain pointed to a lance which stood against the wall near by.

"You are to carry that lance," he said briefly. Then he cautiously peered forth. A moment later they were in the broad hall, boldly striding toward the distant stairway. Lorry had been instructed to proceed without the least sign of timidity. They passed several attendants in the hall and heard Count Halfont's voice in conversation with some one in an anteroom. As they neared the broad steps who should come tripping down but Harry Anguish. He saluted Quinnox and walked rapidly down the corridor, evidently taking his departure after a call on the countess.

"There goes your hostage," said the captain grimly. It had required all of Lorry's self possession to restrain the cry of joyful recognition. Up the staircase they went, meeting several ladies and gentlemen coming down, and were soon before the apartments of the princess. A tall guard stood in front of the boudoir door.

"This is your relief, Bassot. You may go," said Quinnox, and with a careless glance at the strange soldier the sick man trudged off down the hall, glad to seek his bed.

"Is she there?" whispered Lorry, dizzily and faint with expectancy.

"Yes. This may mean your death and mine, sir, but you would do it. Will you explain to her how I came to play her false?"

"She shall know the truth, good friend."

"After I have gone twenty paces down the hall do you rap on the door. She may not admit you at first, but do not give up. If she bid you enter or asks your mission, enter quickly and close the door. It is unlocked. She may swoon or scream, and you must prevent either if possible. In an hour I shall return and you must go back to the passage."

"No! I have come to see her and her only!"

And that age is? After people reach a certain age, their complexion takes on a hue indicating that they haven't washed their faces for a long time before yesterday.

surrendering myself this very night."

"I had hoped to persuade you. But, sir, you cannot do so tonight. You forget that this visit compromises her."

"True, I had forgotten. Well, I'll go back with you, but tomorrow I am your prisoner, not your friend."

"Be careful," cautioned the captain as he moved away. Lorry feverishly tapped his knuckles on the panel of the door and waited with motionless heart for the response. It came not, and he rapped harder, a strange fear darting into his mind.

"Well?" came from within, the voice he adored.

Impetuous haste marked his next movement. He dashed open the door, sprang inside and closed it quickly. She was sitting before her escritoire, writing, and looked up, surprised and annoyed.

"I was not to be disturbed—oh!"

She staggered to her feet and was in his arms before the breath of her exclamation had died away. Had he not supported her she would have dropped to the floor. Her hands, her face, were like ice, her breast was pulseless, and there was the wildest terror in her eyes.

"My darling—my queen!" he cried passionately. "At last I am with you! Don't look at me like that! It is really I—I could not stay away—I could not permit this sacrifice of yours! Speak to me! Do not stare like that!"

Her wide blue eyes slowly swept his face, piteous wonder and doubt struggling in their depths.

"Am I awake?" she murmured, touching his face with her bewildered, questioning hands. "Is it truly you?" A smile illumined her face, but her joy was short lived. An expression of terror came to her eyes, and there was agony in the fingers that clasped his arm. "Why do you come here?" she cried. "It is madness! How and why came you to this room?"

He laughed like a delighted boy and hastily narrated the events of the past twenty-four hours, ending with the trick that gave him entrance to her room.

"And all this to see me?" she whispered.

"To see you and to save you. I hear that Gabriel has been annoying you and that you are to give up half of the kingdom tomorrow. Tell me everything. It is another reason for my coming."

Sitting beside him on the divan, she told of Gabriel's visit and his dismissal, the outlook for the next day, and then sought to convince him of the happiness it afforded her to protect him from an undeserved death. He obtained for Quinnox the royal pardon and lauded him to the skies. So ravishing were the moments, so ecstatic the sensations that possessed them, that neither thought of the consequences if he were to be discovered in her room, disguised as one of her guardsmen. He forgot the real import of his reckless visit until she commanded him to stand erect before her that she might see what manner of soldier he was. With a laugh, he leaped to his feet and stood before her—attention! She leaned back among the cushions and surveyed him through the glowing, impassioned eyes which slowly closed as if to shut out temptation.

"You are a perfect soldier," she said, her lashes parting ever so slightly.

"No more perfect than you!" he cried. She remembered, with confusion, her own masquerading, but it was unkind of him to remember it. Her allusion to his uniform turned his thoughts into the channel through which they had been surging so turbulently up to the moment that found him tapping at her door. He had not told her of his determination, and the task grew harder as he saw the sparkle glow brighter and brighter in her eye.

"You are a brave soldier, then," she substituted. "It required courage to come to Edelweiss with hundreds of men ready to seize you at sight, a pack of bloodhounds."

"I should have been a miserable coward to stay up there while you are so bravely facing disaster alone down here. I came to help you, as I should."

"But you can do nothing, dear, and you only make matters worse by coming to me. I have fought so hard to overcome the desire to be near you, I have struggled against myself for days and days, and I had won the battle when you came to pull my walls of strength down about my ears. Look. On my desk is a letter I was writing to you. No, you shall not read it. No one shall ever know what it contains."

She darted to the desk, snatched up the sheets of paper and held them over the waxed taper. He stood in the middle of the room, a feeling of intense desolation settling down upon him. How could he lose this woman?

The Kind That Won't Lose Shape

Did you ever notice how quick thin clothing loses its shape? It's because it is not made right. We overcome that fault in our Correct Summer Clothing—we've had it made a new way. The coats have a full shoulder, with hair-cloth stiffening down the front, that keeps them from breaking or losing shape. The pants have cuff bottoms, concealed buttons and felt straps, the cloth is thoroughly shrunk which overcomes bagging at the knee. There's no clothing like it for fit and style in Paducah. The Pearce is laying up while the estate of the late Captain Cairnes is being settled.

The Charleston arrived last night from Tennessee river and will depart on return trip probably today or tomorrow.

Superintendent Young Taylor of the docks, has contracted for six barges that he will repair at once, probably pulling them out next week.

The steamship City of Macon recently took 58,835 melons into New York from the south—enough to make all the negroes in the north grin.

The Joe Fowler arrived at 10 o'clock from Evansville. The Hopkins is laying up here for repairs and the Joe Fowler will probably be the only Evansville packet for a day or two.

A raft of logs consists of thirty logs in a row, chained together with log-dogs, and five of these constitute a string, while ten of these make a fleet. Thus the total number of logs in a fleet, which is generally handled by one towing steamer, is 1,500.

While the boat Avalon was lying at this landing Sunday night a good deal of commotion was occasioned by the mate of that craft shooting twice at a colored rouser. It appears the black man talked back to the mate and this caused the trouble—Metropolis Herald.

We are glad to inform our readers, from information we consider official, that the famous Lee line, of Memphis, will have two fine boats in the Cincinnati and Memphis trade when the fall season opens. This insures our shippers good service between these points.—Courier-Journal.

Dick Newbill, the clerk of the steamer John S. Hopkins, who has been spending his vacation with the family at Louisville, Ky., is back and went to his post Monday. In his absence King Cobbs stood watch on the Hopkins. Mr. Newbill says there is nothing in the report that he was going to buy a steamboat for the Louisville and Kentucky river trade. He is at a loss to know how the report started.—Evansville Courier.

"The last sidewheel steamboat that ever left Pittsburg for New Orleans direct," says Captain John Niman, of this city, "was the Tycoon, with Captain I. C. Woodward on the roof, who she left Pittsburg just before the Civil war broke out. She was caught at the New Orleans wharf, but Captain Woodward succeeded in making his escape from confiscation, reaching Cairo in safety, and then from there home she had easy sailing. If I recall history aright, this was the last trip ever made by a passenger steamer from Pittsburg to New Orleans until the Queen City made the run to the Mardi Gras, last February.

Theatrical Notes.

Another big crowd was drawn out by The Seward Show at The Casino last night to witness the second and last performance of "In Illinois." Minnie Seward and the entire company again duplicated their success of the previous night and added to the fine reputation the company has made. The audiences are growing larger each succeeding night and at the present rate of gain late comers will have to accept the very back seats or stand up. This company seems to have caught the popular fancy. Tonight the realistic French drama, "A Man of the People" will begin a two day run. It is such a well known high price success that its production at low prices by the favorite Seward Show will make it doubly attractive here. Large audiences will no doubt witness the play both nights. New specialties and illustrated songs are announced between acts.

The special scenery for the big production of "Faust" has arrived from New York and is being placed in the Kentucky today. The tickets are now being sold by a number of the ladies who have it in charge and as they are selling rapidly the prospects are for a packed house. Electric fans are in the theater so even though the night should be warm perfect comfort will be assured the audience. The box office will be open all day Monday and Tuesday so seats may be reserved in the regular way.

Mr. Charles Kiger went to Nashville on business today at noon.

By "X-Rays."

Just for once won't you try a pair of shoes that are not made from guesswork measurements of what your foot ought to be, but from "X-ray" photographs of what women's feet really are?

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe is exactly shaped to the bones, muscles, and ligaments of the foot, as they are plainly revealed by "X-ray" photograph. This is the explanation of why you hear so much talk on all sides about the wonderful "Fit of a 'Dorothy Dodd.'" The shoe deserves its popular nickname of "an arrangement in comfort." But all this is of no help to you unless you own a pair. On the day you buy them you will learn a new lesson in Foot Comfort.

After that, no one can sell you any other shoe but a "Dorothy Dodd."

Sincerely yours,

DOROTHY DODD.
